INTERNATIONAL

Jérôme Rive plays a very active role in the field of Higher Education and Research in international management as well as in the development of international relations in the field of Higher Education.

Regarding the iaelyon program portfolio, he has developed and directed the Master's degrees taught in English and the International MBA program.

The International Management Master's degree, a degree he directed from 2006 to 2008, was first awarded EPAS accreditation by the EFMD in 2008.

He launched in 2006 the innovative concept of iaelyon International Week. With the invitation to Lyon in January every year of over sixty visiting faculty from all around the world, the International Week achieves the goal of bringing the World to Lyon enhancing the internationalization of iaelyon activities and insuring at the same time the promotion of the Lyon Metropolitan area: over 85 international seminars targeted at Master's students and Executive Education students, Research workshops bringing together French and international faculty, short programs for MBA students, workshops for the sharing of innovative international pedagogical practices...

At the initiative of several double-degrees with international Universities: VSE Prague - Czech Republic (in English); Tamkang - Taiwan (in English); Bamberg - Germany (in German); Pavia - Italy (in English) and Bilbao - Spain (in Spanish), he is also the Academic Advisor for the Pacific Area at the International Relations Office of University Jean Moulin and is the University correspondent for the Auvergne-Rhône-Alps Young Ambassadors Program since 2002.

As President of the IAE FRANCE network since 2012, he enhanced the participation of the 32 IAE schools in the main international Higher Education conferences, i.e. NAFSA, EAIE and APAIE.
