Biographie / Résumé

Paul-Olivier est Maître de Conférences en finance à iaelyon School of Management. Ses domaines de recherche se concentrent sur les marchés du crédit, en intégrant les facteurs culturels, religieux, et légaux. Il enseigne la finance d'entreprise et de marché au sein de plusieurs Masters, et en troisième année de Licence.

Auparavant Paul-Olivier a été Associate Professor à l'Université de Nottingham, sur son campus Chinois de Ningbo, et Assistant Professor à l'Université d'Aberdeen, en Ecosse, où il a fondé et dirigé le Master de finance à distance. Il a réalisé son doctorat à l'Université de Strasbourg, sous la direction de Laurent Weill. Paul-Olivier a également occupé des positions de chercheur visitant à HEC Montréal, la Banque de Finlande et l'Université de Constance et d'Economiste à la Banque Centrale d'Irlande.
