the University Jean Moulin - Lyon 3

Situated at the heart of the city, the University Jean Moulin (UJM) Lyon 3 enrolls approximately 23 000 students in six different faculties or departments.

Two university sites
at the heart of the city:

*The « Quai » campus on the Rhône riverbanks
15, quai Claude Bernard*

*The « Manufacture des Tabacs » campus
6, cours Albert Thomas*

The Law School is considered one of the best in Europe. The school is highly recognized for its international law programs. "The Institute of Comparative Law Edouard Lambert" is considered to be the first such institute in the world as well as the birthplace of comparative legal studies.

The Political Science department is part of the Law school and has a strong focus on International Relations.

The Business School is one of the largest in France and offers its 6000 students high-level professional courses that will prepare them for a wide range of careers in the management sector. The IAE (Institut d'Administration des Entreprises) offers an important selection of courses in English and enrolls above 2 000 graduate students at the Master Level and approximately 200 PhD students a year.

In the official selection of the best Business Schools published in April 2008, Eduniversal granted 4 palms to the IAE de Lyon in recognition of its strong international influence and thus ranked the IAE among the top French institutions as well as placed it in the top 300 of the best 1000 worldwide Business Schools.

The Faculty of Languages offers 22 foreign languages and stands out as an extremely attractive and well-rounded faculty. This faculty offers business oriented degrees with a focus on international business and foreign languages.

The Faculty of Humanities is comprised of several departments-French classic and modern Literature, History, Geography and Territorial Planning, Communication and Library Classification Systems.

The Faculty of Philosophy has a prestigious background and counts among its illustrious alumni philosophers as famous as Maurice Merleau-Ponty, Gilles Deleuze, Henri Maldiney, or François Dagognet.

The Institute of Technology offers short professional degrees in varied fields such as communication, legal careers and management.

In France, the Course structure is based on three degrees:

- Licence (Undergraduate Bachelor Degree),
- Master (Graduate Master Degree),
- Doctorat (PhD), normally obtained after respectively 3, 5 and 8 years of study. Teaching is organized in two semesters per academic year. The credit system functions along the European standard of ECTS (European Credit Transfer System) and each semester is comprised of 30 ECTS, considered to be a full-time course of study.

European Higher Education System - LMD

Lyon, one of Europe's most attractive metropolitan areas

Lyon is the second largest city in France (over 1 million inhabitants) after Paris. Lyon has all the advantages of a large city, while maintaining a human dimension in its feel. The city has a buzz about it and a unique quality of life.

Lyon is a centre of study with 12 educational establishments, universities and specialized schools and more than 100 000 students.

“ Attending the university Jean Moulin Lyon 3 has been an absolutely wonderful experience. Not only is the campus fun and friendly, but also it serves as a gateway into French life and culture. Coming to Lyon I knew nothing about the city itself, but chose the school because it was one of the few in France that offered an English program. As soon as I arrived here I was astounded by the beauty of the city. Set along side two rivers, resting in the shadow of the historic St. Jean Cathedral, Lyon constantly impresses me with everything from its beautiful architecture and churches to its narrow streets packed densely with restaurants. Furthermore, the city is home to many fellow students attending numerous universities here which makes for a vibrant and exciting night life with opportunities to meet French and other international students alike. I highly recommend Lyon 3 to anyone looking for a unique and fun French cultural experience. ”

Exchange student from University of British Columbia, Canada

Its remarkable location at the heart of Europe means that Europe's major cities are less than a two-hour flight away from Lyon's international airport. Paris is a mere two-hour TGV high-speed train journey away, it takes the same time to reach the French Alps with the world's largest skiing domain, or the Mediterranean coast.

At the confluence of the Saône and Rhône rivers, Lyon has been listed as part of UNESCO's World Heritage since 1998. This former capital of Gaul bears witness to 2,000 years of history. Its Gallo-Roman heritage, its Italian architecture and cosmopolitan population testify to the city's openness to multiple influences. Today, life goes on in Lyon's historical center, in the heart of the city, with its restaurants, shops and cultural sites.

Lyon is also more and more attractive to visitors thanks to its intense cultural life with events such as the Festival of Lights (early December of every year), Biennale Dance Festival and the Biennale Contemporary Arts Festival,

A dynamic region: Lyon is the capital of the Rhône-Alpes region, a prosperous region with one of the most important and dynamic economy in Europe: Rhône-Alpes is the 6th highest GDP in Europe, out of 204 regions ranked (Source: Eurostat 2005).

Quick facts and rankings:

- Reader's Digest ranked Lyon in 2007 as 7th world's most livable city in the world.

- According to the French weekly newsmagazine Le Point (in January 2005), of France's 100 largest cities and towns, Lyon offers "the best quality of life". Lyon provides its residents an exceptional level of comfort, with easy-to-use public transport, cleanliness, security, a low level of pollution and more. Every effort is made to give Lyon's citizens a quality life and sense of well-being.

“ Distinguished by its old quarter, two enormous rivers and beautiful over looming cathedral, Lyon's French fame and beauty is a secret to all those but her inhabitants, unspoilt by tourist, yet made up of a large student population, the city's feels eternally young... for all those people who want a true taste of France, a “Lyonnais” lifestyle, or a French home away from home, I would recommend Lyon above all others. ”

Steve Durston Ryan,
Exchange student from Monash
University, Australia

“ And the city of Lyon has so much to offer. I love spending my time relaxing along one of the rivers or in the beautiful “Parc de la Tête d'Or”. I now know why Lyon is renowned as the gastronomic centre of France; the cuisine “Lyonnaise” is reason enough to come here. There is always something to do on nights and weekends and Lyon's rich history provides for some great traditions and celebrations. My time spent abroad in Lyon has forever changed me and left me with a great love and respect for this university, the French nation and its culture. ”
